Summary of reasons for decision:

The computer text file promotes and supports the exploitation of children for sexual purposes and is therefore deemed to be objectionable under s3(2)(a) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993. The file contains the explicitly described sexual abuse of a young girl by a man. This content is intended to arouse people with a sexual interest in children and encourages readers to regard them as sexually desirable and available. An objectionable classification interferes with the freedom of expression as expressed in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 but this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention that publications promoting or supporting the sexual exploitation of children or young persons are to be classified as objectionable.
